

Contents

List of Illustrations and Tables	vii
Acknowledgments	viii
Introduction
Historical Consciousness: Theory and Practice Anna Clark and Carla L. Peck	1
Part I. Historical Consciousness, Curriculum, and Pedagogy
Chapter 1. Schools, Students, and Community History in Northern Ireland Alan W. McCully and Keith C. Barton	19
Chapter 2. “Orientation to the Past”: Some Reflections on Historical Consciousness Research from England Arthur Chapman	32
Chapter 3. History Education Research into Historical Consciousness in Flanders Karel Van Nieuwenhuyse and Kaat Wils	46
Chapter 4. Historical Consciousness: A Learning and Teaching Perspective from the Netherlands Carla van Boxtel	61
Chapter 5. Historical Consciousness and Representations of National Territories: What the Trump and Berlin Walls Have in Common Mario Carretero	76

Part II. Historical Consciousness within and beyond Borders

- Chapter 6. Mothers' Darlings of the South Pacific 91
Angela Wanhalla
- Chapter 7. Looking Back at Canadians and Their Pasts 103
Peter Seixas
- Chapter 8. Private Lives, Public History: Navigating Australian
Historical Consciousness 113
Anna Clark
- Chapter 9. "Chinese and their Pasts": Exploring Historical Consciousness of Ordinary Chinese—Initial Findings from Chongqing 125
Na Li
- Chapter 10. "They Fought for Our Language": Historical Narratives and National Identification among Young
French Canadians 142
Stéphane Lévesque and Jocelyn Létourneau

Part III. Historical Consciousness and Cultural Identity

- Chapter 11. What is Black Historical Consciousness? 163
LaGarrett J. King
- Chapter 12. "There Are Current Lessons from the Holocaust":
Making Meaning from Jewish Histories of the Holocaust 175
Jordana Silverstein
- Chapter 13. The "Realness" of Place in the Spiral of Time:
Reflections on Indigenous Historical Consciousness from the Coast Salish Territory 185
Michael Marker
- Chapter 14. Intergenerational Family Memory and Historical Consciousness 200
Anna Green
- Chapter 15. Researching Identity and Historical Consciousness 212
Carla L. Peck
- Epilogue
Why Historical Consciousness? 224
Maria Grever
- Index 233