

Contents

Acknowledgments	viii
Introduction. Tinted Glasses, Unit Thinking, and Coherants	1
Chapter 1. The Politics of Vision and the Fetish beyond Optical Unconscious: Toward Spectacle Pedagogy	21
Chapter 2. Seeing Failed Ninja, Ghost Samurai, and Last Samurai: Phantom Japan at a Weekend Japanese Language School in the United States	47
Chapter 3. Seeing Angels: The Fetish of Smiling Angels in the “Poor but Happy” Discourse in Sierra Leone	77
Chapter 4. Seeing Holy Mouth Man: The Fetish of Study Abroad Transformation Talk	98
Chapter 5. Seeing Dr. Jekyll in Mr. Hyde: Political Others and beyond the Polarization of “Critical” and “Uncritical”	116
Chapter 6. Seeing Fairies and Anti-Spectacle Pedagogy: Cottingley Photographs of Fairies and the Linguistic Landscape Project	139
Chapter 7. Seeing Santa Claus and Elves: Swinging between Fantasy-World-for-Escape and Scrutinized-World-for-Change	165
Chapter 8. Seeing Robbers, Freaks, and Dirt: Seeing Maui’s Fishhook in Scorpio and the Fetish of Us	187
Conclusion. Continuing Dialogues	209
References	225
Index	243