

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	viii
Introduction Scott Eastman and Stephen Jacobson	1
Chapter 1 Christopher Schmidt-Nowara (1966–2015): His Work and His Life Stephen Jacobson	17
Chapter 2 The First Word: Empire and Antislavery: Spain, Cuba, and Puerto Rico, 1833–1874 and the Renewal of Spanish Imperial History Adrian Shubert	37
Chapter 3 Not Just Spain, Not Just Colonies: Writing Transnational Histories of the Nineteenth Century Joshua Goode	51
Chapter 4 “Divergent Reflections” on Colonialism and Nationalism in the Nineteenth-Century Hispanic World: Christopher Schmidt-Nowara’s The Conquest of History Dalia Antonia Caraballo Muller	67
Chapter 5 Bonds of Affection? The Catholic Church and Slavery in New Spain Emily Berquist Soule	83
Chapter 6 Questions of Scale: Spain, Latin America, and the Atlantic World in Christopher Schmidt-Nowara’s Scholarship on Slavery Elena Schneider	105

Chapter 7 Empire and Antislavery through a New Lens: Spanish Colonialism Seen from the Dominican Republic and Haiti Anne Eller	123
Chapter 8 Unlocking the Historical Truth of Abolitionist Literature: Beecher Stowe's A Key in Spanish Translation Lisa Surwillo	145
Chapter 9 Empire and Civil Rights in Franco's Spain Louie Dean Valencia-García	167
Chapter 10 "To Make a Language of My Own": Fernando Blanco White's Flight to Freedom (1815) Joselyn M. Almeida	183
Chapter 11 Unexplored Connections: Spanish Prisoners of War and Political Refugees in France, 1808–1820 Juan Luis Simal	199
Epilogue The Conquest of History and the Construction of Identitarian Discourses: An Interview with Christopher Schmidt-Nowara Vicent Sanz Rozalén	219
List of Works by Christopher Schmidt-Nowara	233
Index	239

Photographs follow p. 140