

Contents

Introduction
Laura Ferrero, Chiara Quagliariello and Ana Cristina Vargas	1
PART I. Borders and Inequalities
Chapter 1. Framing Deservingness in Health Care: Media Constructions of Unauthorized Youth in the United States Anahí Viladrich	35
Chapter 2. Constructing the Undeserving Citizen: The Embodied Consequences of Immigration Enforcement in the US South Nolan Kline	60
Chapter 3. Structural Violence, Tuberculosis and Health-Care Processes: Bolivian Immigrants in Buenos Aires and São Paulo Alejandro Goldberg, Cássio Silveira, Tatiane Barbosa and Denise Martin	80
Chapter 4. Women, Migration and Health: An Inquiry into Gender-Based Violence and the Limits of Maternity Care Services in Southern Europe's Borderlands Chiara Quagliariello	102
PART II. From the Individual to the Community
Chapter 5. Roma and the Right to Health: A Transnational Approach to Structural Vulnerability Pietro Cingolani	127

Chapter 6. Mental Health as Politics: Exploring Mental Health Services among Syrian Refugees in Lebanon Hala Kerbage and Filippo Marranconi	152
Chapter 7. Intercultural Mediation in the Italian Health-Care System Ana Cristina Vargas	182
Chapter 8. ‘Community Welfare’: Community-Based Networks as Migrant Health Promoters Laura Ferrero	209
Afterword. Forced Migration, State Violence and the Right to Health Daniela DeBono	235
Index	249