

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	viii
Introduction	1
Part I. Backgrounds
Chapter 1. Being Bukovinian before 1945: German and Jewish Bukovinians in the Habsburg Empire, Romania and the Second World War	31
Part II. Establishments
Chapter 2. ‘Settling in the Motherland’: ‘Resettlers’ from Bukovina in West Germany after the Second World War	61
Chapter 3. ‘A Remarkable Branch of the Jewish People’: Survivors from Bukovina between Romania and Israel after the Second World War	109
Part III. Entanglements
Chapter 4. ‘Lost Home’ and ‘Area of Expulsion’: Compensating for Loss at the Height of the Cold War	155
Chapter 5. ‘Sunken Cultural Landscape’: Reimagining Bukovina through the Lens of Literature	202
Conclusion	248
Bibliography	263
Index	285