

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Introduction: The Deposition and Manipulation of Ash in the Past E. Charles Adams and Barbara J. Roth	1
Part I. Ash as a Transformative Agent
1. Ash Matters: The Ritual Closing of Domestic Structures in the Mimbres Mogollon Region Barbara J. Roth	15
2. Complex Closure Practices Involving Ash at a Small Pueblo in Northeastern Arizona E. Charles Adams	30
3. Sequencing Termination Events: Preparing Hearths for the Ritual Decommissioning of Ancestral Pueblo Pit Structures in the Northern U.S. Southwest Susan C. Ryan	45
4. Symbolic Associations: Assessing the Co-occurrence of Turquoise and Ash in the Ancient U.S. Southwest Samantha G. Fladd, Saul L. Hedquist, E. Charles Adams, and Stewart B. Koyiyumptewa	61
5. Fire, Ash, and Sanctuary: Pyrotechnology as Protection in the Precolonial Northern Rio Grande Michael A. Adler	76
6. Burned Roofs and Cultural Traditions: Renewing and Closing Houses in the Ancient Villages of the Middle Fraser Canyon, British Columbia Anna Marie Prentiss, Alysha Edwards, Ashley Hampton, Ethan Ryan, Kathryn Bobolinski, and Emma Vance	94

7.	Agentive Ash and Dispersed Power in the Cahokia Mississippian World Melissa R. Baltus and Sarah E. Baires	113
8.	Townhouses, Hearths, Fire, Smoke, Ash, and Cherokee Towns in Western North Carolina Christopher B. Rodning	136
9.	Ash as an Agent of Transformation in Iroquoian Society William Fox	156
Part II. Ash and Ritual
10.	Ashes to Ashes, Dust to Dust in Caddoan Mortuary Ritual Marvin Kay	173
11.	Ashes for Fertility Cheryl Claassen	186
12.	Ashes, Arrows, and Sorcerers William H. Walker and Judy Berryman	196
13.	Divine Food and Fiery Covenants: The Significance of Ash in Ancient Maya Religion James L. Fitzsimmons	213
	Afterword Tammy Stone	229