

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	viii
Introduction Parker Shipton	1

Part I. Perceiving, Projecting, and Reimagining Kinship

Chapter 1. Kinship in Shifting Perspectives (or: Brother, Can You Paradigm?) Parker Shipton	35
Chapter 2. Genealogy and Other Essential Fictions: The Family in Essence and Consensus James W. Fernandez	57
Chapter 3. Only Connect: The Challenge of Being Born Human John Edward Terrell	79

Part II. Close Family and Roles Delegated Inside and Out

Chapter 4. Fictive Fatherhood Nicholas W. Townsend	93
Chapter 5. Sponsoring Careers: A Person-Centered View of Fictive Kinship Pragmatics Robert A. LeVine	123

Part III. Ritual Kinship and Some of Its Variants

Chapter 6. “Iron Brothers” and “Dear Customers”: Fictive Kinship and Social Change in China Chun-Yi Sum and Jason Jiansheng Li	131
--	-----

Chapter 7. Masquerading Rites of Passage: Fictive Marriage in Iran	154
Shahla Haeri
Chapter 8. Patrilineality and Its Alternatives in the Islamic Middle East: Milk, Umma, Sect, and Tariqa	175
Charles Lindholm
Part IV. Further Forms of Familyhood
Chapter 9. Meta-Kinship: Nominal Relatives as Fact, Fiction, and Factual Fiction	195
Parker Shipton
Chapter 10. Mechanical Automata and Performative Kinship: Repair and Relatedness through “As If” Illusions	212
Ellen Schattschneider
Chapter 11. Old Worlds from Fragments: Holocaust Family Memory in the Age of Ancestral DNA	228
Mark Auslander
Conclusion	249
James P. Ito-Adler and Parker Shipton
Index	258