

Contents

| | |
|---|------|
| Acknowledgements | viii |
| Notes on Translation and Transliteration | x |
| List of Abbreviations | xi |
| Introduction. Becoming and Being a (Dis)Connected Forced Migrant | 1 |
| 1. ‘Life Is Like a Waiting Stop’: Situating Experiences of Iraqi Refugees in Jordan’s Temporary Protection Context | 28 |
| 2. Hoping for Solutions in a ‘Surrogate State’ | 49 |
| 3. Tactics to Get ‘Unstuck’: Refugee Protests and Seeking Alternative Means to Travel | 71 |
| 4. Prolonged Legal Uncertainties and Their Interaction with Virtual Home-Making Practices in Amman | 83 |
| 5. The Mediation of Hope: Digital Technologies and Affective Affordances in Iraqi Refugee Households | 103 |
| 6. Post-humanitarian Shifts in Jordan’s Protection Space | 123 |
| 7. Fast-Forward to 2018: Technologies towards Accountability for UNHCR Jordan’s Persons of Concern | 139 |
| Conclusion. (Dis)Connectivity and the Politics of Hope | 164 |
| References | 178 |
| Index | 209 |