

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xvi
Introduction	1
Harold Mytum and Richard Veit
Part I. Exploring Surface, Subsurface, and Documentary Evidence
1. Applying Reflectance Transformation Imaging (RTI) to Record and Interpret Mortuary Monuments	11
Harold Mytum
2. Uncovering History at Washington Monumental Cemetery: Ground-Penetrating Radar and Victims of the 1918 Influenza Pandemic	30
Mark Nonestied
3. Is There Anyone out There? Survey and Research Techniques for CRM Projects When Burial Grounds and Cemeteries Border Construction Projects	44
Bob Dean and Mickey Dobbin
4. Who Lies Where? A Land and Air-Based Survey Methodology for Documenting Historic Cemeteries	63
Richard W. Hunter, James S. Lee III, Alexis Aemy, and Evan Mydlowski
Part II. Field Recording of Monuments and Burial Ground Management
5. Revisiting Historic Burial Grounds	85
Anne G. Giesecke and Dan G. Steffen

6. An International Mortuary Monument Recording System: From Site Analysis to International Comparative Studies Harold Mytum	103
7. “As Old as Pompeii or Herculaneum”: Kolkata, India’s South Park Street Cemetery, an Example of Rapid Recording Richard Veit	122
8. Standing for Sacred Spaces: NC Department of Natural and Cultural Resources and the African American Cemetery Project Melissa A. Timo and John J. Mintz	144
9. Mourning and Remembering: Mortuary Monuments and Graves for Horses in Finland Tiina Äikäs, Janne Ikäheimo, Tuija Kirkinen, Karin Hemmann	152
10. Preserving the Rainbow Bridge: A Guide to Recording Pet Cemeteries Eric Tourigny	172
Part III. Archiving and Dissemination
11. Discovering England’s Burial Spaces: Digital Archives and Their Potential for Burial Space Research Toby Pillatt, Gareth Beale, Katie Green, Julian D. Richards, and Nicole Smith	193
12. The Cemetery Surveyor Application: Non-Paper Data- Collection Methods in Luxembourg Burial Grounds Christoph K. Streb, Cyrille Médard de Chardon, and Thomas Kolnberger	212
13. A Website for St. James’ Cemetery, Liverpool: Demonstrating the Value of Material Culture in the Dissemination of Cemetery Data Online Anna Fairley Nielsson	237
14. Burial Ground Recording and Analysis: Where Next? Harold Mytum and Richard Veit	255
Index	268