

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	1
Approach	4
New Trends in Legal Historiography	10
Chapter 1. The Hague—Berlin—Versailles	17
International Criminal Law before World War I	18
History Management in Wartime, 1914–1919	27
Debating the Responsibility Clauses of the Peace Treaty	37
The Heidelberg Association and Max Weber’s “War Guilt”
Intervention	49
Conclusion	65
Chapter 2. Washington—Nuremberg—Bonn	69
International Law versus Human Rights?	70
Jurists as Lobbyists and Historians	74
The Frankfurt School Goes to War	85
Hermann Jahrreiß and the Nuremberg Defense Strategy	92
West Germany Joins the Genocide Convention	102
Conclusion	111
Chapter 3. Bonn—Ludwigsburg—Jerusalem	116
Allied Law and the German “Victims’ Community”	117
West German Historians and the “Führer Order”	127
Eichmann, Arendt, and Justice	140
Conclusion	153
Chapter 4. Salzburg—Bonn and Berlin	157
“Transitology” and Samuel Huntington’s “Third Wave”	159
The Politics of the Past after German Unification	175

“Mercy Before Justice”? The Amnesty Debate of 1994–1995	191
Conclusion	207
Final Reflections	210
List of Abbreviations	221
Select Chronology	225
Notes	229
Bibliography	289
Index	321